Personally, I do not like the concepts because it is hard for me to engage that long in something. For example the concepts took me an average of 2 hours to get them finished and after a while it was difficult for me to pay attention to them.

Great professor!

This class fit my schedule perfectly. There was a miscommunication with my advisor, and I didn't realize I was 3 credits behind schedule on for my degree. This allowed me to knock out those credits while not flooding my final spring semester of school.

24. Which elements of this course had the most positive impact on your engagement and/or learning?

none

The case studies, because I had to read everyone's opinions as well as form my own on the topic.

using time management to do all the assignments on time

I liked the discussion posts as they were connected to the things we were learning and had an open minded discussion about them.

The case study assignments.

The case studies gave me an opportunity to engage with my other classmates.

I believe that critical thinking has impacted my learning the most in this course.

The discussions definitely had me using my brain which I enjoyed!

25. Which elements of this course could be improved to have a more positive impact on your engagement and/or learning?

nothing

Less concepts to learn. I get those things are vital but to learn north of 60 concepts a day on Mcgraw was difficult for me around work this winter break. Maybe a different type of learning instead of concepts.

There could be more time given between the time things get assigned and the time they are due.

Nothing

Honestly I don't think any need improving this class is set up terrifically.

I definitely think the smartbooks could have been shorter!
